Guerre Égypte - Hittites
Apr 26, 2012 · Throughout most of my career, I’ve mainly studied the royal texts from Mari in Syria, dated back to c. 1800 BC, and the royal texts from Amarna in Egypt, dated to c. 1350 BC. However, the texts from Ugarit, especially those which come from the 14th through 12th centuries BC, shed light not just on royal activities, but also on the activities of diplomacy - History of diplomacy | Britannica

A diplomatic correspondence from the 14th century BCE existed between the Egyptian court and a Hittite king on cuneiform tablets in Akkadian—the language of neither. The oldest treaties of which full texts survive, from about 1280 BCE, were between Ramses II of Egypt and Hittite...
